STOCKS.

There was a bracing up of stocks all along the line and Sierra Nevada climbed back to 11, which gave everybody fresh hope. John Mackey, who still believes the Comstock all right, went down below night before last, and it is presumed stopped the decline. Now is the time to load up if you have any money left.

The suit against the Reinstein estate includes the Sheriff as a matter of legal form, but he is not charged with conspiracy to defraud.

Gus Lewis was yesterday made the happy father of a girl. Had he stood fast on that third clause in the primary test it would have been a straight boy.

Yesterday morning a man named Wilder employed in the machine shops of the V. & T. R. R. broke his wrist while passing a belt over a wheel. Dr. Smart thinks amputation of the arm may be necessary.

It is reported on the streets that Parkinson says that he proposes to vote yet. What respectable court he proposes to compel to admit him to citizenship he does not name.

THE GLENBROOK STAGE.—Hereafter the stage to Glenbrook will leave Carson at 6 o'clock in the morning instead of 8 o'clock in order that it may make the trip when the snow is hard. 27.1w.

Parkinson has issued the edict that John Mackay must not go to the Chicago Convention. What a fat thing "Old Perk" would have if he ever got John Mackay afraid of him. Mackay is not a safe man to fool with. The Smallmans tried to blackmail him once and they are in jail.

A TRAVELING ADVERTISING MEDIUM.

Yesterday afternoon the young man Le Grand, who has been about town for several days past getting up a mammoth advertising card, was tried before Justice Cary yesterday on the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. George C. Thaxter was the complaining witness. He testified that a few days ago Le Grand came to his store and asked him to give him an advertisement for a railroad time table he was getting up. He represented that the leading business houses of the city had given him their cards, and named a number of them. He also stated that he had contracted with Mr. Hunt for the frames. The prosecuting witness listened to the entrancing music of the traveling advertising medium's voice, and his hand instinctively went down into his pocket and he drew forth a $5 piece, paying the man in advance and giving him a two-inch advertisement. The man took the money and vanished, after which Mr. Thaxter discovered that while he had taken the coin he had left the copy for the advertisement lying on the show case. This roused his suspicions and he sallied after Le Grand. He soon met a number of people from whom Le Grand had collected money, and all were getting anxious about their coin. Several parties of whom Le Grand claimed to have received advertisements went on the stand and swore that they had made no contracts with him. The clerk at Hunt's lumber yard testified that he had never ordered any frames. Mr. Sharp of the Ormsby House testified that the defendant told him that he had paid $30 in advance for frames at Hunt's. Le Grand had also claimed that most of the advertisements were in type at the APPEAL office, and the reporter of the APPEAL testified that no such advertisements were in type at that place, but that the man had ordered some contracts printed for which he had paid in full. An attempt was made to introduce a warning to the public from the Sacramento Democrat, publishing the defendant as a fraud. The evidence was not admitted, and the court dismissed the case on the grounds that the defendant obtained the money by agreeing to do a certain amount of printing. There was nothing as yet to show that he did not contemplate keeping his agreement. A number of parties who had paid him money in advance were at the trial taking a lively interest in the proceedings. They are now more than anxious regarding the time when the mammoth time table and advertising card is to be printed and framed.

OPIMUM SMOKERS.—The practice of smoking opium still prevails in Carson to an alarming extent, notwithstanding the police have made every effort to stop it. The officers of late have been rather lax in attempting to enforce the law from the fact that no matter how strong the evidence is against the defendant the jury are bound to acquit. If a man is found with a pipe in his hand and the room filled with smoke he has but to swear that the smoke was some left over from the night before and came from "another crowd," and the jury will believe every word of it. Young men pass the APPEAL office daily who have come from the opium dens of Chinatown. Their listless gait and blood-shot eyes are plain indicators of opium indulgence. There is one good however, which grows out of the opium habit. It takes disturbing elements out of a man. It may make a young man more of a hoodlum than ever, but he is a harmless one. There was a time when there was a class of young scoundrels in Carson who were always kicking up a rumpus. They were ready to fight at the "drop of the hat." We hear less of them now. The opium habit makes them listless, lazy and cowardly. They prefer to lounge in a Chinese den and breathe the fetid atmosphere of a Mongolian sub cellar to going about the streets meddling with other people's business and capping up rows. Opium may therefore be regarded in the light of a blessing than otherwise, as it keeps a bad class of boys where they will do the least harm. There are some of these smokers who are well worth reforming, and every effort should be made to save them. The majority, however, would do well to smoke themselves out of existence as soon as possible.

DEGS.—We have an inexpressible contempt for dogs, not any particular dog but dogs as a mass. Where one dog is well bred, faithful and respectable, one finds two dozen that ought to be dead. Carson has more dogs to the square mile than any place in the world. At night they congregate in packs all over the city and howl and yelp from 8 o'clock in the evening until 5 in the morning. They sleep during the day. The unanimity with which they howl is the leading feature of their nocturnal carousals. Let Farmer Treadway's black dog give a bark and it is picked up by Judge Hawley's, passed along by Mason's, and then the gamut is run until Duffy's dogs at the southern outskirts of the city echo back the cry, with all intermediate dogs joining and the little black curs chipping in like the flats and sharps on a piano key board. What this city needs is a dog pound capable of holding at least 10,000 dogs, or a big lake where they can be drowned. Of course in closing this article we tender our apologies to every man who owns a hunter, a hound, a Newfoundland or a bull terrier; to every woman who loves a lap dog, and to every child who is the proud possessor of a rat and tan terrier.

There will be no meeting of the Blaine Club to-night.

DIXON'S GRAPHITE.—The time seems to be fast arriving when Faber must make a better article of lead pencil than he has been making for some time or step down off his throne and hand over his crown and scepter, together with other monarchical paraphernalia to Dixon, head of the American Graphite Company. It is only during the past year that Dixon's pencils have begun to make their way extensively in this section. There was a time when it was almost impossible to sell a gross of Dixon's pencils in Carson. People had used the Faber all along and they didn't want anything better. Presently they began to use the Dixon innovation just for an experiment and then they began to wonder why they ever used the Faber at all. Now we all use Dixon's and will tolerate no other kind. There was a time when the pencils manufactured by Faber were unrivaled, but success must have made the manufacturer careless, for his pencils became "gritty" and made ragged marks. Dixon probably saw the opportunity to begin manufacturing the best pencils that money, good machinery and experienced workmen could turn out. No newspaper man should be without "Dixon's American Graphite" pencil. It lasts twice as long as any other kind and is most emphatically the "boss." We have just begun to realize the good qualities of the article and write this gratuitous notice just to help the boom along.

THE REFORM CLUB ENTERTAINMENT.—To-night the musical entertainment of the Reform Club will take place at the Opera House under the direction of Professor Hentchel. The general admission will be two bits and children not occupying whole seats 10 cents. The programme is something a little out of the common order, "way up," so to speak. We publish from the printed house bills as follows:

- PROGRAMME.
1. Double quartet, "Song of the Lark," Mendelssohn.
  2. Piano duet, Allegro, op. 44, Kuhlau; the Misses H. Olcovich and V. Rinckle.
  3. Soprano solo, "The Return," Millard; Miss Nellie Parkinson.
  4. Quartet for male voices, "Waltz song," Abt.; Messrs. Mason, Loughton, Scoville and Chesley. (By request.)
  5. Piano solo, Fantasie from "Oberon," Spindler; Miss Vivie Rinckle.
  6. Duet for Alto and Tenor, "The Swallows," Kuehn; Mrs. D. A. Bender and Mr. C. P. Mason.
  7. Piano solo, Fantasie from "Freischutz," Weber; Miss Emma Friend.
  8. Solo and quartet from "Ernani," Verdi; Misses Nellie Parkinson, Therese Tuilly, and Frances Hodgkinson, and Messrs. Mason and Chesley.

THE EPISCOPAL SOCIETY.—There was a big crowd of both saints and sinners at General Clark's last evening to witness the performance of Wanted, A Correspondent. It was presented with the "following powerful cast": Queergrain.....James Torreyson
Mrs. Queergrain.....Mrs. E. M. Hunt
Puss Pearly.....Miss Stella Gates
Jack Spigot.....James G. Chesley
Addie Wild.....Miss Annie Martin
George Wild.....James H. Marshall
Box.....H. P. Whitney
Dinah.....Mrs. George G. Lyon
The play was greeted with roars of laughter, sprinkled with any amount of genuine applause. So well, in fact, did the players render their roles that their friends and relatives think seriously of keeping them boxed up while Tom Maguire is in the city next week that they may not be kidnapped by that enterprising manager and taken down to Baldwin's Theater. There was also a social dance, the General generously furnishing a full quadrille band for the occasion. The sumptuousness of the supper was remarked by everybody. The affair was one of the pleasantest held in this city for a long time and a goodly sum was added to the exchequer of the Lord.

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY CENTRAL COMMITTEE. A meeting of the Democratic County Central Committee was held last evening. The appointment of Delegates to the State Convention was made: Carson precinct three delegates; Empire precinct, one delegate. Primary election to take place on Saturday May 15th. Polls will be held at the Curry engine house in Carson and at Nicholas Ambrose's at Empire on the above named day. There will be a meeting of the Central Committee on Saturday evening, May 8th. A resolution to publish the notice of the primary election in the MORNING APPEAL was unanimously adopted.

MOUNTAIN QUAIL.—Yesterday a flock of mountain quail alighted on the capitol square and held possession of the walks for over an hour. There were about a dozen in all and they seemed perfectly at home scratching about in the gravel. If any one disturbed them by walking into the flock they simply rose and settled down on another part of the grounds. This little incident suggests the idea that with comparatively little expense a few animals such as fawns and the smaller varieties of deer might be put in the capital grounds and add much to its attractiveness.

ARRIVED AT LAST.—Yesterday morning a man came to the APPEAL office from Klein's brewery with a keg of the best beer we ever tasted. After sitting the keg down he demanded the empty one, of which so much has been said. When told there was no empty one he looked quite astonished and withdrew in a confused way. All hands drank to Klein the brewer and agreed that no such beer was ever brewed in Carson or elsewhere. Mr. Klein has learned some new kinks in beer making, as the excellence of his brews this year will establish.

THE TRIBUNE APOLOGIZES.—Last night the Tribune changed its tactics toward the Kindergarten and assumed a crawling attitude as follows:
Friends of the Kindergarten school know too well how much the Tribune has done toward the support of this excellent institution to suppose that anything would appear in these columns in opposition thereto. The item which appeared in yesterday's issue was given to the reporter a few minutes before a dispatch called him to Virginia, and so only the legal proposition was referred to. That the Kindergarten school may flourish and remain a public institution is the sincere desire of this writer, and there is no real necessity ever to write thus in order to set us right with the public, for the reason that the people need no such reminder.

Too Good A Town.—The Baldwin Company has paid the morality of Carson a truly flattering compliment by not billing the production of Carols here. They reserve that really loud and naughty play for the Comstock where such despicable trash is better liked and appreciated. We have instead, Forget Me Not and The Girls, two delightful pieces which always give the best of satisfaction to an audience.

BILLING AND COING.—The agent of the Baldwin Company sent a man out the other day to bill the town with his mammoth posters and happening to go up street half an hour later found him pausing in his work to talk sweet to a girl. He was exceedingly wroth, as all agents are under the circumstances, and came near "pasting him one." A bill sticker should not mix cooing with his billing.

ASSAYING.—The advertisement of Augustus Heberling appears in another column. Mr. Heberling is considered one of the best analytical chemists in the State, and his assays are made promptly and correctly. The men who are roving about Ormsby county prospecting can easily learn the result of their finds by calling upon Mr. Heberling.

DEATH OF ROBERT M. HUSTON.—Yesterday morning Mrs. B. F. Kennedy received word of the death of Robert Huston, who was formerly employed in the Melter and Refiner's Department of the Mint. He died at his old home in San Bernardino on Saturday last. Mr. Huston had many friends in this city who will regret his early death.

ROSEDALE DRAMATIC CLUB.—There will be a meeting of this Club on next Monday evening at the residence of W. S. Byrne, Musser street, near Division, commencing at 8 o'clock. The selection of a play, or plays, to be given at the first entertainment of the Club will be considered. Every member is respectfully and urgently invited to be present.

LOST.—Between Carson and Empire, an English coach pup 7 months old. The finder will please leave it at Mrs. Billy Wilson's opposite the Methodist Church. 3c

VACANT PLACES

In the dental ranks will never occur if you are particular with your teeth, and cleanse them every day with that famous tooth-wash, SOZODONT. From youth to old age it will keep the enamel spotless and unimpaired. The teeth of persons who use SOZODONT have a pearl-like whiteness, and the gums a roseate hue, while the breath is purified, and rendered sweet and fragrant. It is composed of rare antiseptics and is entirely free from the objectionable and injurious ingredients of Tooth Pastes, etc.

M. COHN TO THE FRONT.—The popularity of the dry goods store of M. Cohn is not only a household word in Carson, but it extends all over Ormsby and the adjoining counties. His Spring stock, purchased in the East, is the best selected one ever brought to Nevada's Capital. It embraces everything rare and beautiful in the way of Spring and Summer fabrics, and in the language of the showman, "must be seen to be appreciated." Mr. Cohn is a judicious buyer, and such men are always prepared to undersell their neighbors. Give him a call and be convinced that we are stating facts.

ATTENTION!—The greatest wonder yet discovered in medicine is Mrs. Dr. Howe's celebrated rheumatism, neuralgia and toothache cures. Would you rather suffer the pain of having a tooth drawn than buy a bottle of Mrs. Dr. Howe's toothache medicine? Mothers should not be without it for their infants. A few drops in a little sweetened water to swab a teething baby's mouth will instantly relieve the little sufferer. The medicine does not canterize, and is very pleasant. Sold by all druggists. mh7
